

COLLEGE OF NURSING

Dr RML Hospital

Name of Head of the Department:

Dr.Nirmala Singh

RML hospital is one of the premier institutes under the Central Government Administration, situated at the heart of the city. The hospital is catering a large population and has all specialties and super specialties for providing comprehensive health care services to general public. College of Nursing at RML hospital is also a pioneer institute as far as nursing education is concerned as the institute initiated a school of nursing in 1964. Later in response to high power committee recommendations and considering the increased public demand for graduate nurses; the school of nursing has been upgraded to college of nursing in 2008. The B.Sc (N) program is affiliated to GGSIP University. Therefore, there is an increased preference among nursing aspirants to choose government institutions for undergoing graduate program and quality of training of government institutions are unparallel.
